Proverbs 31

I pray that she will become an excellent wife (woman) and that her worth would be considered far above jewels. Let her learn to work with wool and flax and work with her hands in delight. Teach her to gird herself with strength and make her arms strong. Teach her to extend her hands to the poor and stretch out her hand to the needy. I pray that her future husband would be one that is known by his peers as a man of integrity and godly character. Let strength and dignity be her clothing and let her smiles at the future. I pray she opens her mouth in wisdom, and the teaching of kindness is on her tongue. Teach her that charm is deceitful and beauty is vain. May she fear the Lord thus be praised.
